(By Special Telegraph.)

The following message was received yesterday:—

Regina, July 25, 1889.

J. F. Betts.—Start made here to day by surveyors on the Long Lake road. Congratulations. J. ROYAL, Lieut.-Gov.

HALIFAX, July 23.—A great sensation has been caused here to-day by the arrest of Otto S. Weeks on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, preferred by Annie H. Killan.

CALGARY, July 23.—The first case in the Supreme Court this morning was the Queen vs. Debalinhard, for horse stealing. The prisoner is a son of the Indian agent at Edmonton and is charged with stealing a horse from the Quorn Ranch last March. He was sentenced to six months in the common jail.

QUEBEC, July 23.—There are now in cattle quarantine at Point Levis, a number of very valuable cattle destined for the Northwest. Amongst them are six bulls and 91 cows and heifers for Quorn Ranch, near Calgary.

WINNIPEG, July 24.—There are very good grounds for believing that the M. & N. W. Ry. is about to fall into the hands of another company, and it is not improbable that the C. P. R. have secured control of the line. The first announcement was made a few days ago when the employees were notified that there would shortly be a change in management, and General Manager Baker has sold his residence, in Portage la Prairie. It is generally conceded among those who know that the C.P.R. has purchased the property, lock stock and barrel.

REGINA, July 24.—A car load of mules arrived to-day, being a portion of those Holt's construction outfit, to commence work on the R. & L.L. road.

LONDON, July 24.—There is a rupture among the Liberals over the royal grants, and Gladstone, Sir Wm. Harcourt and Parnell will support the Government.

WINNIPEG, July 24.—Messrs. Holt, Mann and Mackenzie, well known contractors, arrived this morning and will proceed west to-day. They go at once to Saskatoon over the route of the Regina & Long Lake Ry. Mr. Neilson, Mann's engineer, accompanies them.

REGINA, July 25.—A party of twenty men, including Contractor Holt and two engineers, arrived this morning and proceeded in two parties over the Long Lake Ry. route to survey different routes around the lake.

The Minister of the Interior is expected here about the end of the month.

The weather has been very warm during the past week. A few light showers of rain have fallen which have done immense good to the crops.

Const. Gingras got back from Regina this week, where he had been down to with the Lieut. Governor's party from here. He brought in a team with him.

John Macdonald has rented the store, on Church street, lately occupied by Bratner as a harness shop, and is having it fixed up for a butcher shop, where he will be found in future.

Russell & Davis had a pig stolen out of the pen at their slaughter house on Tuesday evening last, by a French half-breed. The man was brought before J. F. Betts, J.P., yesterday and committed for trial.

Wm. Hutchison's horse started off on his own hook on Tuesday at a very lively rate, and after crossing the drain on the Government road was caught at Stobart's. The only damage done was a shaft of the backboard attached, broken.

The Knights Templar of Temperance held their picnic at And. Spence's, on the little Red Deer Hill, yesterday. A big crowd of townspeople went out and were met by the brethren and sisters of St. Andrew's Court, when a very pleasant day was spent.

The town corporation should have the debris of the old building that was pulled down on King street, taken away as it is not only an eyesore but very dangerous to people having to drive past, and an accident is liable to happen there at any time, as mortar and rotten logs are lying on the middle of the street.

The river has been slowly rising for the past few days, but it has yet a foot or so to come up before steamers can run on it. The steamer Northwest is lying up above Cumberland, waiting for a rise of water before she can proceed.

LONG LAKE RAILWAY.

Our despatches received to-day bring the welcome intelligence that the contractors are preparing for the construction of the Regina & Long Lake road to Prince Albert. Messrs. Mann and Holt, two of the foremost contractors in America, are making a trip over the proposed route to Saskatoon, and it is highly probable that one of them will come on to the end of the line. They have already some of their plant on the ground, which should be taken as evidence that they mean business and intend to prosecute the work of construction forthwith. The fact of their commencing operations also points to the fact of the bonds having been successfully floated and the money required to build the road secured. The well known energy and ability of the contractors is sufficient to warrant us in believing that the work will be prosecuted vigorously and that a great deal of the road will be prepared for track laying this fall, even if no ironing should be done. We do not expect that the road can be completed this year, and will be quite satisfied if such an event happens in a year from now. The fact that work has commenced will give confidence to the people of this district, and will be an incentive to farmers and others to remain in the place, and to get to work with redoubled energy to improve their condition and that of the country.

A rumor is also to hand that the M. and N. W. railway has changed hands. It is supposed that it has been sold out to the C. P. R. We do not think that much reliance can be placed on the rumor, however. But if it should prove to be true, we do not know what significance to attach to the deal. It is certain that the C. P. R. is in a position to complete the road into Prince Albert, and it may be their intention to do so in order to secure control of the entire carrying trade of the Saskatchewan, while on the other hand their object in getting control of the line may be simply to prevent its falling into the hands of a rival company. We shall see.

The advent of a railway to this District will be followed by a large immigration of farmers, and it is important that they should be able as soon as they arrive to secure homesteads. While there is a large extent of land within easy distance of this town available for settlement, it is also true that large areas of the best farming lands have not been surveyed. We consider it the duty of the Government to lose no time in causing surveys to be made in order that the land may be available when required and that the difficulties which always arise through squatting on unsurveyed lands may be avoided. There is no better land in the district than that in townships 49 and 50, ranges one to seven west of the third meridian, and no surveys have yet been made of those townships. There are already settlers going in there and taking up land, and very shortly there promises to be a general rush in that direction. It is easy to foresee, the result; many will find themselves, after survey, on odd sections and on land reserved for school and other purposes, and then there will be a general kick, because they will undoubtedly experience trouble in obtaining entries for their holdings, and difficulties will arise on account of two or more having improvements on the same section or quarter section. It may be argued that these people have no right to settle on unsurveyed lands and that if they do they must take the consequences. While we admit that there is some force in such an argument, we also contend that the land should be open for settlement. When immigrants come across rich soil in a district pre-eminently adapted to agriculture, they are not going to be hindered from taking advantage of the opportunity which presents itself to them of securing good farms by the mere fact that the boundaries have not been laid down. They will much rather locate, and take the chances of securing a title. Most of the land fit for settlement between the two rivers is now held by speculators, and immigrants as a rule are not prepared to pay the high prices at which these lands are held. They are promised free homesteads, they expect free homesteads and have a right to get them, and it is the duty of the authorities to see that the land is ready for settlement. Very true, there are hundreds of thousands of acres of good land in the District which may now be homesteaded, but those at present in search of homes appear to have a preference for lands in the townships above indicated, and we trust that with as little delay as possible the Government will cause the same to be surveyed and thrown open to settlement.

THE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION.

The entrance examination to the High School took place the first week in July. Twenty-two candidates presented themselves for examination, out of which number nineteen passed. The total number of marks attainable was 975; number necessary to pass, 390 or 40 per cent. of the aggregate; and 25 per cent. in each subject. On the Board of examiners having completed their work, the following is a list of those who passed and the number of marks made by each: Leonard Bell, 714; Arthur G. Way, 693; Martha Thompson, 684; W. G. Pritchard, 675; John McTaggart, 665; Lizzie Cameron, 653; Eddie Jardine, 642; Agnes Thompson, 634; John McLeod, 621; Edith Gordon, 592; Wilson Paul, 585; Wm. McKay, 554; Alfred Oram, 537; Annie McTaggart, 487; Roland Paul, 483; Alexena McGregor, 467; Denham McLean, 497; Angus Cameron, 432; Fred, Stewart, 407.

BATOCHÉ.

The French half-breeds yesterday celebrated the 24th, being St. Joseph's Day. Parties were arriving all day from all parts of the country. Sports commenced about noon, consisting of horse racing. There were to be foot races and other games, but they were delayed by a furious pugilistic encounter, which resulted in the arrest of Chas. Nolin, our future member. It appears Nolin was on the committee for the sports, but owing to the amount of beer and ginger ale indulged in, the gentleman was more capable of raising a rebellion than looking after the sports. The police were there, however, to do their duty, which Nolin resented. He was told to be quiet or go away, but instead of doing so he started to fight the police and abuse them, but he got badly left; they were too many for him. The darbies were finally put on his wrists and he was given a free ride to the Police barracks, with two red coats sitting on him. This unlooked for part of the programme seemed to shake all the life out of the people, who started for their homes, and there was no more sports of any kind. The half-breeds made a gathering around the N.W.M.P. barracks and it was feared there would be more trouble, but they were prevailed upon to go to their homes. There was one more arrest. Jean B. Parenteau, for assaulting and striking Mr. Batoché on the nose, which I believe is rather sore. He also tore one of Mr. Batoché's shirt sleeves off his arm. What he wanted it for, I don't know.

A public meeting will be held at the Town Hall on Wednesday evening, 7th August, next, at 7:30 o'clock, to receive a statement of the Volunteer and Police Memorial Committee, and discuss the form of memorial.

The old dog, Powder, which belongs to the Police here, died a few days ago. Powder was attached to the force for fourteen years, and came here in 1879 with Sergt. Keenan from Battleford, having formerly come from Fort Pelly with the troop. This old dog was a great favorite among the Police and all who knew him, and they regret his loss.

Russell & Davis have purchased a lot on the corner of Third and Government streets and intend putting up a residence on it.

James White has just finished his fine house at the east end and will be prepared to take in boarders either by the day or week. Mr. White's house is splendidly finished and was built with a view to warmth and comfort for his guests. The boarders at the east end can testify to the homelike and comfortable place kept by Mr. White and his amiable wife, formerly. See adv't.

R. B. Way has on exhibition, at his jewellery store, a handsome gold medal, which was presented by Chief Factor Belanger, of the H. B. Co., on his recent visit here, to the St. Ann's Convent, to be awarded to the lady who is the most proficient in painting and drawing during the coming year. The medal is in the shape of a Maltese cross with pallet and brushes beautifully engraved on a raised circle in the centre.

The following is a list of the names of the ladies and gentlemen who are on their way down here from Battleford:—Mrs. R. C. Macdonald, Mrs. H. J. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dyke-Parker, Miss Ashley, Miss Applegarth, Miss Pearce, Messrs. Hy. Parker, Richardson, Otton, Wm. Laurie, R. C. Laurie, Ashley, H. Loscombe, Con. Gallagher, R. Wyle, J. Donovan. Six or seven policemen are coming too whose names we did not get. The gentlemen will compete in the rifle association and playing a game of cricket with our local clubs. The riflemen have telegraphed to have their names entered for the different matches.

RED DEER HILL.

Farmers' Picnic.

Last week the farmers at Red Deer Hill and vicinity held a meeting, at which they decided to avail themselves of Mr. Macdowall's presence in the district to give him a fitting acknowledgment of his services at Ottawa, and also to hear his views on the railway question and other matters of public interest. It was decided that the best means of getting the people together was to hold a monster picnic on the top of the hill and to invite the whole country to attend, as well as the town of Prince Albert. Saturday, the 20th, was the day selected for the event, and a most efficient committee of farmers was appointed to make all the necessary arrangements, and here we may say that the committee did their work in a most satisfactory manner. On the very summit of the hill, from which a view of the surrounding country for many miles in every direction could be had, a large booth was built of green trees, and outside of this was built a platform 15 x 40 feet, which was well shaded with trees. Within the booth two tables were laid, each capable of seating about seventy-five guests. The picnic was announced for 10 o'clock, but long before that hour arrived a spectator on the hill could see rigs of every imaginable description wending their way along the many sinuous avenues of approach leading thereto. People began arriving from every point of the compass in large numbers, until at 2 p.m. there were fully 1,000 on the grounds, about 100 of whom were from town. At a few minutes after 2 Mr. Macdowall arrived on the grounds, and was enthusiastically cheered by the assembled throng. He was accompanied by Mr. F. H. Hewson, of Winnipeg, and a number of gentlemen from town. After a short interval, in which Mr. Macdowall conversed with the settlers, as many as could sit down to a substantial repast provided by the ladies of the Hill and vicinity. It is not too much to say that the collation was far ahead of anything we have ever seen provided on such occasions, and fully as good as could be got up at this season of the year. One thing that redounds to the credit of the farmers is the fact that not one of them sat down at the tables until every visitor from town had been seated and served with the rest of everything. We are afraid that such kindness and consideration is very rarely shown to the farmers at our town gatherings. After the appetites of all had been satiated, an adjournment was made to the large platform already referred to, when Mr. Andrew Spence read the following address:—

To D. H. MACDOWALL, M.P., SASKATCHEWAN.

DEAR SIR,—

We, the residents of Red Deer Hill and vicinity, desire to extend our most cordial welcome to you on this occasion of your visit among us.

We wish to express our approval of the very able manner in which you have represented your constituents while at Ottawa.

Having every confidence in the future greatness of the Territory in which we reside, when railway facilities have secured an outlet to eastern markets for our produce, we very heartily commend the ability and influence shown by yourself in securing for us such an outlet.

We will not further encroach upon your time and attention by trying to enumerate the many advantages which have been granted to Saskatchewan through your influence, but again bidding you very heartily welcome—fully believing that you will represent us as fully and ably in the future as you have done in the past.

We are yours very truly,

Signed on behalf of the people.

GEORGE GLAISTER,

Mr. Macdowall, on rising to reply, was loudly cheered. He said that it afforded him great pleasure to be here to-day, and to see such a large gathering. He was especially pleased to see so many ladies present, and was exceedingly gratified at the warm reception that had been accorded him, and at the very kind address that had been read by the chairman. He referred to the fact that during his candidature at the election he had made some pledges, amongst others that if elected he would do his best for the District, and felt that he had done so as far as he was able. If he had not been able to accomplish all that he desired, he had succeeded in doing a great deal, and felt that the high compliment paid him today by his constituents was an evidence that they gave him credit for having done something. He had worked hard and persistently to get a railway to the district and had great difficulties to overcome, but felt that things were progressing now in such a manner as would ensure the construction of a road to Prince Albert at an early date. He said that Mr. Osler, a gentleman of high financial standing, had some time since gone to England to raise money to build the road, and to-day he had the intelligence that Mr. Osler had been so far successful that the bonds for $2,500,000 were now on the market in London, and he had no doubt that the full amount would be subscribed in a few days. A provisional contract had been let for the building of the road, and he felt confident that in a year from this fall we would have the cars running into Prince Albert. He did not think that a railway would raise the price of grain, but it would create a market, and farmers would get cash for their produce instead of trade. He was very much pleased to see the crops here looking so well; they were much better than the crops in Manitoba and in Assiniboia. Of course there would not be a first-class crop even here. Some would be disappointed, but we would be better off than farmers in other places. He advised the farmers strongly not to be discouraged by the partial failure this year, but to go to work and put in all they could next spring, as nothing would induce a railway to come in quicker. He believed that a railway contractor would yet visit Prince Albert this fall, and that grading would be done. Wages might not be high, as these men never paid higher wages than they could get the work done for, but there might be about $75,000 expended, which would help the settlement not a little. Besides this, they would buy produce here if there was any to sell; this and telegraph poles will likely be taken out here during the coming winter, and altogether there may be nearly $150,000 expended on this end of the line in a short time. He said that last session of Parliament the 215 members asked for grants to railways aggregating $22,000,000. Out of that sum only $2,000,000 had been granted, and as a matter of fact, only $1,000,000 had been actually given, and out of that $80,000 were given to the Long Lake road, so that we did not fare so badly after all. He would not make any new promises, but would say that he would continue to use his energies for the benefit of the district, and would endeavor to serve his constituents to the best of his ability, faithfully and honestly. We must not, he pointed out, forget that we are only a small portion of a great Dominion, and that at times it may be necessary for us to forego some of our local interests for the benefit of the Dominion.

We must not be disappointed if we do not get everything we want, but must be prepared to give and take. He was a strong believer in Confederation, and would always work in the direction of building up a great Canadian nationality, not forgetting, however, our duty to build up the Northwest Territories. The electors should not judge him too harshly if occasion should arise when he would feel it his duty as a Canadian to make a local interest subservient to one affecting the welfare of the whole of Canada. After referring to the origin of the Canadian people and those of the United States and the progress Canada was making as a nation, Mr. Macdowall again thanked his hearers for their kindness, and on resuming his seat was again loudly cheered.

Capt. Hock, M. L. A. for Kinistino, being called upon, said that he was very much pleased to be present, and to see the unanimity of feeling that existed to-day. He was glad to see so many of those who had been opposed to Mr. Macdowall, at the election, present to do him honor, and he hoped that the same unanimity would always prevail, and that they would always be found working together in their efforts to develop the country. He referred briefly to the railway question and other matters of interest. He approved of the course Mr. Macdowall had pursued as our representative at Ottawa, and hoped that if a change were to be made that we would have as good a member next term.

Mr. J. F. Betts, M. L. A., made a neat speech and was followed by Messrs. J. C. McNevin and T. F. Miller, who each made a few remarks.

This concluded the speech making and the crowd dispersed, some to witness the sports and others the dancing.

At the same time sports were being held, the results of which were as follows: Horse race, 440 yards, R. Adams 1st; G. Pocha, 2nd. Pony race, R. Goodfellow, 1st. Boys race, under 12 years, 100 yards, H. C. Pocha, 1st; A. Foulds, 2nd; Rob. Robinson, 3rd. Boys race, under 16 years, A. Stansfield, 1st; A. Pocha, 2nd; R. Adams, 3rd. Girls race, under 12 years, 75 yards, Virginia McKay, 1st; Lottie Glaister, 2nd; Lottie Spence, 3rd. Putting heavy stone,—R. Spence, 26 ft.; J. Glaister, 25 ft. 6 in.; A. Hodgson, 24 ft. 9 in. Putting light stone,—F. Turner, 31 ft. 6 in.; A. Hodgson, 30 ft. 4 in.; J. Glaister, 30 feet. Weight of stone, 16 pounds. Much credit is due R. Stanley for the energy he exhibited in raising money for the prizes.

During the day the P. A. C. Band furnished music at intervals, and played very sweetly. At about five o'clock the visitors from town prepared to depart, but before doing so three rousing cheers were given for Mr. Macdowall, the ladies and the band, who had kindly given their time and services to aid in making the reception a success.

Dancing was kept up till about 10:30 p.m., when all went to their homes, well pleased with the time they had spent.

A PLEASANT TRIP

Through a Magnificent Section of the Saskatchewan Country.

On Wednesday last Mr. Macdowall, M.P. for Saskatchewan, and a party of gentlemen composed of Messrs. F. H. Mathewson (Winnipeg), Capt. Craig, T. McKay and H. W. Newlands, left town to make a tour of the Shell River country and the townships north of Carlton. They crossed the river on the town ferry and proceeded along the trail to the round plain, crossed the Sturgeon river on the bridge built over that stream last year by the Northwest Government, thence following the trail in the direction of Snake Plain, and camped within ten miles of the latter point on Wednesday night. The next day an early start was made and Mistowasis Reserve was reached in the forenoon. At this place a short stay was made, during which the party visited the Presbyterian mission in charge of the Rev. John McKay, and the Indian agency and farms. From the several gentlemen who formed the party we have received the most glowing accounts of the section of country through which they travelled. Until after the Sturgeon river was left behind there was not much to see, except timber; at the round plain, six miles from town, there is a small area of arable land, but the soil is rather light. As they proceeded in the direction of Snake Plain, however, and through the Shell river valley, they were surprised at the extent and richness of the land suited to agricultural pursuits. The soil is first class, and there is practically no limit to the extent of good farming land. It is well watered, and there is abundance of first-class timber for all purposes. For grazing purposes this section of country cannot be excelled in the entire Northwest. Grasses of the most nutritive kind abound in unsurpassed luxuriance and in inexhaustible quantities. As yet, no settlement has been done in the Shell river district, but recently a number of farmers have gone in from Prince Albert and have taken up claims, and there are more to follow shortly. No portion of Saskatchewan offers so favorably as a field for settlement, especially for those who wish to go into mixed farming, and when its advantages become known, it will not be long in filling up. At Mistowasis reserve the Indian farms presented a fine appearance. The grain and other crops were far advanced and gave promise of an abundant harvest, although they had been to a slight extent injured by the drought. The Indians on the reserve were well provided for by the Government, and perfectly contented. This band have a large number of cattle which belong to the Government, but the Indians, besides these, own large numbers of cattle and horses, which are their own property. Mr. Finlayson, the agent, conducted the visitors over the reserve and through the agency buildings, and revealed by the well filled warehouses—the fact that the Indians were most liberally provided for. There is not a very large area under crop in the Snake Plain district, as there are only a few settlers in it, but what crop there is will mature early and yield a good return. On leaving the reserve the party proceeded south to Carlton, where the river was crossed and a halt made for the night. The found the land between the Snake Plain and Carlton of as good a quality as that along the Shell River, and far surpassing in richness any expectations they had formed. At Carlton a great amount of damage had been done to some of the crops by gophers. An effort has been made by some of the farmers to exterminate the pests, but the task proved futile. For every gopher they killed, two seemed to spring up instead. The settlers are at a loss to account for their numbers this season, as they have never been seen there in any numbers before. It is supposed that owing to the plains becoming very dry they were forced down to the river, and as the farms which suffered are near the river, they thus fell a prey to the congregated gophers. On Friday a drive of two or three hours through a beautiful and fertile stretch of prairie country brought the party to Duck Lake. Many of the half-breeds after the rebellion abandoned their lands, but are now returning, and numerous new farm houses were seen in course of erection on the trail from Carlton to Duck Lake. A call was made at the Indian agency, after which a visit was made to the historic battlefield of Duck Lake. There were two members of the party present who took part in that memorable conflict. Joe McKay, who is wonderfully reported to have fired the first shot, and Capt. T.

McKay, who had not seen the spot since that day in '85 when so many of Prince Albert's sons drenched with their blood the snow-covered field of Duck Lake. These two veterans of '85 escorted their party over the battle ground and pointed out the positions occupied by the opposing forces, the spots where our brave fellows fell and other objects of interest about the place. Mr. H. Mitchell, M.L.A., entertained the visitors at his residence in a most hospitable manner, and gave them an opportunity of inspecting one of the best herds of thoroughbred and grade cattle in Canada. His herd was very much admired by all, especially the polled angus stock, which thrive remarkably well in this climate. The crops about Duck Lake looked splendid, and did not appear to have suffered very much from want of rain. Some very fine fields were seen in this neighborhood, the yield from which will be fully up to the average. In the afternoon the party drove over to Batoche, where they were compelled to remain over night on account of a very heavy rain, which lasted about six hours. The crops here looked well, but not as good as in some other localities. The French half-breeds all appeared to be comfortable and satisfied, and seemed to be without a grievance. At an early hour on Saturday morning a start was made in the direction of Prince Albert. The river was crossed at St. Laurent, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the party arrived at the summit of Red Deer Hill, where an immense gathering of farmers from all parts of the district were waiting to meet Mr. Macdowall, and here our narrative of his trip must end. Mr. Mathewson, in answer to a question about the country he had been over, said that it was simply grand. He was perfectly astounded at what he had seen, and was more than charmed with the scenery and the climate. He would, he said, have set anyone down as a first-class prevaricator who would have told him that there was such a grand country on the Saskatchewan. He was delighted with his trip, and would do all he could to make known the advantages this district offered as a field for immigration. Our crops, he remarked, were far ahead of anything he had seen in Manitoba or along the line of railway as far as Qu'Appelle and as a grazing country he had no where seen its equal. I am surprised, said Mr. Mathewson, to see such a large and compact settlement, with snug farms and good farm houses, surrounding such a well built and thriving town so remote a distance from a railway. I will carry away with me nothing but the most favorable impressions of this District, and if I ever have occasion to go into farming to this place will I come, and will strongly advise all I come across hereafter to do the same. Mr. Macdowall and the other gentlemen of the party all speak in the highest terms of the Shell River and Carlton country, and think that it is ahead of anything between the rivers for farming purposes as well as for stock raising.
